

My opinion on adoption

Soham, 11 yrs old

Hi ! My name is Soham. I am an adopted son. I feel very happy with my mom and dad. I think adoption is awesome it gives the child another chance to have a family. To be honest, people in my school make a lot of fun of me. They say you are weird because you are adopted. I just ignore them. So parents do not stop thinking about adoption just because the child is going to get teased. If animals are born to live wild, we children are also born to have a family. I don't care if these parents are not real. I just think about what love they give me and what love I have to give them and I care about that I have a loving family.
